

1.2.6 Recognition Image Making Process

- a . Make the wire frame of model。
- b. Select the area of the model in the image。
- c. Selecting the appropriate background image as the recognition information of recognition image。
- d. When the area of modle is deducted from the image, that is the recognition image for program.
- e. On the basis of d step, add graphic wireframe and print it into a picture book recognition image. It can be painted on the picture book recognition image, and use app to produce the effect of positioning and model coloring.